EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA:::::::MARCH 26.

☞ "I, for one, in looking back upon the past history of this country—and the people, whatever philosophers may say, will come to the same conclusion—have come to believe that your war has not been won for the liberty of any class of people; your war that you have just partially concluded has had no high virtuous principle at the bottom of it. It has had simple contentions for power, for place, and for corruption, commencing here in this body, and permeating throughout the country.

* * * * *

"Sir, the position in which, so far as I am a judge, the people of the North were placed at the beginning of the late war, was disgraceful to all legislation of the past. Did you who now sit in your seats tell us that this war was impending? Did you ever tell us that we were at any time on the brink of a fearful convulsion? We rushed into the war without discipline, without knowledge of the impending catastrophe. Is it fair, is it just, is it generous, that that policy shall be pursued hereafter? Such, sir, was my knowledge of it. Nobody ever told me, or those whom I now represent, of the ruin that four short years brought upon us.

[Senator Sprague's Speech.

Have we forgotten how deep our groans were once at the prospect of eternal falsification of the history of the late "unpleasantness"—its rise, objects and conduct? Our cry was then anything but the cry that Job uttered, "O that my enemy would write a book." He was writing too many of the same sort forever and forever to suit us.

But the tide that once (and for how long a time) overwhelmed us, is on the ebb. These words at the head of this article tells the tale. Senator Sprague's conscience has had holes burnt in it, and the truth, God's truth, the truth of such history as is soon to put into eternal petrifications the tale of recent events, is leaking out. How long is it going to take mankind to find out that moral causes are as irrepressible as physical ones, and that you may just as easily put fetters on an earthquake as upon man's sense of justice.

PERSONAL.—We had an agreeable visit yesterday from Col. H. S. Fitch, United States District Attorney for Georgia.

In response to a query as the United States Marshal Dickson's supposed whereabouts, he tells us that the United States Marshal and Judge of Florida, report having met him a short time after he left here, about forty miles from Mobile, ostensibly in pursuit of a criminal. He asked for, and was given by these Florida officials, papers to arrest the criminal if found in that State.—Macon Journal and Messenger.

Dickson then is the lost Pleiad. It may be that he has only gone before to prepare the way for that illustrious host of bagholders for the best Government you ever saw, who have been laying up treasures, where moth and rust do corrupt for the last four years. Schenck's Enrolling Clerk, who puts aside with a quiet ease and grace that Jacko does an almond in his jaw, one hundred million, or thereabouts, by just dashing out one line of an appropriation law—the whisky harpies all over the continent who have outstolen Malays, custodian carpet-baggers who have kept the funds of the public, "not wisely but too well," all through these States, will no doubt find Dickson's snug resting place and lie down on green pastures. But let us not be misunderstood—if we were to oppose these things, would we not be "obstructing" the Government and opposing Reconstruction?

☞ A Congressman has received the following letter from one of his constituents:

I have been thinking whether it would not be better for my health for me to go out of the country, and I have concluded to ask for one of the following places: The Consulate at

London, or Liverpool, or Paris, or Havre, or

and I leave it to you to select, as you have better oportunities to judge. I would like if you would advise me a few days before the appointment is made, so that I can arrange my business.

Perhaps this worthy would accept a mission to Camilla to investigate the "riot" from a Radical point of view.

THE HEBREW PASSOVER.—The Passover of the Hebrews will begin on this evening, and will be commemorated by the people of that faith in celebration of the escape of the Israelites in Egypt, when the angel of the Lord passed over the land and smote the first-born in every house the lintels and door-posts of which were not sprinkled with the blood of the Paschal Lamb. It originated during the bondage of that people, and it has from that period been observed. During the Passover only unleavened bread will be used. The Passover corresponds with the Easter of the Christians, who celebrate it as the day of the resurrection of Christ from the sepulchre, on the third day after His crucifixion. In both the Christian and Hebrew churches the ceremonies are of a character special to the occasion, both being a rejoicing. The Easter has been celebrated by the Christians since the death of the Saviour, while the Passover of the Israelites originated before the days of Moses, who led the hosts of Israel from the dominion of Pharaoh.

☞ The following advertisement appears in the Washington Chronicle of the 20th inst. It is decidedly unique:

THE ORIGINAL GRANT REPUBLIcans of this city, and sojourners from the States, will meet at Union League Hall on THIS (Saturday) EVENING, at 7 o'clock, to maintain the right of decided Republicans to all the government patronage. Original Chase men and doubtful Republicans are invited to stay away.

☞ The daily evening train out of Washington is now generally known as the "swearing train," from the number of homeward-bound office seekers who, not being friends of the Grant family, and having neglected to contribute to the gift enterprise, endeavor to relieve their disappointment and the tedium of the forlorn journey by profuse interchanges of profanity.

TENURE-OF-OFFICE.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The new modified Tenure-of-Office bill, which was born in the iniquity of a Radical caucus, and made at midnight last night the basis of a compromise between President Grant and the Senate, was duly presented to the Senate to-day by the Judiciary Committee, and, after four hours of wearisome debate, was passed by 37 to 15, seven Republican Senators joining the eight Democrats, and refusing to vote for anything but the repeal of the old law. This proposed modification of the law does not give the President the power of absolute removal during the recess of the Senate, but on the contrary, subjects every act of the suspension of an officer to the approval of the Senate within 30 days after the latter body re-assembles. If the Senate does not concur in the suspension of the official, said official returns to his office, his previous removal by the President to the contrary, notwithstanding. This is so much like the old law, that most everybody wonders that Grant ever has decided to accept it in lieu of his original terms of unconditional repeal, but this much needs explanation, as follows: Radical Senators went to him last night, and said if a vote were taken in the Senate on the House bill for the simple repeal of the tenure-of-office law that it would probably pass by the vote of the Democratic Senators, who would thus have all the credit of fulfilling the President's main desire, and at the same time place the bulk of Radical Senators in an unpleasant position. These Radical Senators proposed that the Senate should recede from its position somewhat and that the President should do the same. Grant, after much thought, agreed to the compromise thus proposed and consented to take it in the shape of the bill that passed the Senate to-day. What the House will do, of course, remains to be seen, but Butler has mustered, it is said, sixty Radicals for repeal, who, with fifty-seven Democrats, will go for repeal and defeat this so-called compromise bill. Nothing but the "cohesive power of public plunder" will save the day for the Radical party on this important measure.

IMPEACHER ASHLEY.

It is announced that in the Cabinet meeting yesterday it was agreed to nominate Impeacher Ashley, of Ohio, to be Governor of Montana. Ashley is indorsed by all of the Radicals who voted him impeachment manager.

COMMISSIONER OF INDIAN AFFAIRS.

It is settled that Eli Parker, late of General Grant's staff, is to be the new Commissioner of Indian Affairs, it having been decided that, though an Indian, he is a citizen.

THE EIGHT-HOUR LAW.

There is a flutter among the workmen of the navy yard and other Government works here in consequence of a rumor that Secretary Borie has determined to recommend the repeal of the eight-hour law. This rumor seems to be very well founded, and it is said that the letter making the recommendation has been already written, and will be transmitted to the House Committee on Naval Affairs at its next meeting. It will be accompanied by an argument showing that the operation of the law has worked adversely to the interests of the Government.

DISABILITIES.

Gen. Butler's proposed bill to allow the Southern people to get their political disabilities removed without applications to Congress, is unpopular with certain Radical leeches who have been making money in the business. Some of these men with pretended political influence have been paid large sums by the Southerners to have their political disabilities removed.

THE RESIGNING DEMOCRATS INDORSED.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 24.—Further returns from the special election held yesterday show that, in almost every instance, the resigning members of the Legislature were re-elected without opposition. Senator Henry's district was the only one in which the radicals made a determined fight, having gerrymandered it by the apportionments of 1867, since Mr. Henry's regular election, so as to cut out the Democratic counties and secure a Radical majority of about 400. This, it was thought, would secure them the district at the special election, and accordingly they put up their best man, Col. Asbury Steele, a pronounced advocate of the 15th amendment, and made a distinct issue thereon, and the action of the Democrats in resigning to defeat its ratification. The result was a complete triumph for Henry, he being elected by at least 600 majority. This is the only case which can be regarded as a complete test of the sentiments of the people of the State on negro suffrage, and it is believed that on a square vote it would be defeated by at least 75,000 majority. In every county in the State many Republicans are regarded as voting with the Democrats.

HORRIBLE PUNISHMENT OF A MURDERER.—A Chinese laborer not long ago murdered a whole family of seven persons in Peru. He was arrested, and while the parties who had made the arrest were taking him to the judicial authorities he was rescued from his guards by the inhabitants of the town of Gaudalupe. They took him to the public square of their town, covered his body with kerosene oil, and then burned him alive in a fire which had been prepared for the purpose.

George Maney, Esq., has been elected President of the Tennessee and Pacific Railroad.

Our New Job Office.

We have an entire new JOB OFFICE, embracing presses, types, borders, cuts, rules and everything pertaining to a complete outfit.

We are prepared to fill all orders for plain, fancy and ornamental work, in the neatest style, on the shortest notice, and at the lowest living rates.

We respectfully solicit the patronage of our friends and the public generally.

☞ Mr. Butler urged that there were States in an unreconstructed condition, where a man's life is not safe—where a clergyman is shot down as he performs the marriage sacrament, and when men are taken out of jail and hanged and shot. We are paid by the year, and should not go home now and leave the country in that condition.

These ominous words were spoken at poor old Georgia with all of evil portent that the great malefactor could give them. If this oft repeated malevolence toward the State did not have a great deal to do with the best and dearest interests of our society, its very extravagance would be full of fun. But while this pleasant way of torturing a whole community of States is going on, our very souls are in the crucible, and the crucible upon a hot fire. Nothing in the history of bad men and the venal exercise of their bad passions, can begin to equal the crime committed in the last three years of peace by those men charged with the conservation of peace and the true interets of the American people. That crime has been the deliberate attempt on the part of the leading Radicals in both Houses of Congress, to make the name of Southern men and the Southern States so odious by organized misrepresentations, that the better portions of Northern society would stand by and see us abandoned to torture as they would do in the case of reptiles and the very worst of murdering savages. Knowing the people of Georgia as we do, and in a vast number of these reported cases of outrage and savagery being well informed as to the real facts involved, we venture to say that in every eight instances out of ten, the truth has either been shockingly distorted or the lie was of the "whole cloth." Let us take both of the cases cited against us by this new Daniel come to judgment. The "clergyman shot down as he performs the marriage sacrament" was Rev. Samuel Anthony, a Methodist minister, whose very name has been a household word in hundreds of families in Georgia for thirty years. Mr. Anthony was sent for at the instance of the unfortunate man by whose hands he suffered to officiate at the marriage of his niece. The occasion it seems was too full of joy and bright promise for the uncle's nerves, and he gets drunk by way of relief to overtaxed animal spirits. So much elated indeed was our Mr. Mann, that it was thought best by the young people not to have him called in to the adjoining apartment to witness the ceremony, and after the knot had been just half tied he wakes up, toddles into the presence of the wedding party with his bird-gun in hand, and in tangled accents declares the whole affair must stop for the "word uc-comman'." While the Parson was attempting gently to put aside the gun one barrel was discharged into the floor the other into the body of this venerable man. Much as this concerns the well-being of the beloved minister, it has nothing to do with national politics, and precious little to do in illustrating a social phase. It is only necessary in this case to state further that Mr. Anthony finished the marriage service and acquits Mr. Mann of all malicious intent.

The other case is a sad one indeed, even for this day of sackcloth and ashes. Poor Charley Wallace, a noble, great soul—upright in all his life—shunning concealment like crime, as open as the sun, seeks admission into the Masonic Lodge of Warrenton, where, with his young wife and tender little babe, he had sought his new home. With an insincerity amounting to perfidy, Darden, his enemy, seeks to insult and degrade him by black-balling him on the ballot for admission. This offence, with its attendant circumstances, was so aggravated that Capt. Wallace, must notice it publicly; and he did in such style as brought home to Darden's soul a sense of his shame in unbearable torment. For this, the noble youth was way-laid as if he had been a beast and murdered on the spot. This conduct of Darden's, from the first act of deception to the last consummate horror, may have been often equalled, but until men have the Devils own infinite capacity for wickedness, it can never be excelled in crime. Now let Mr. Butler take this case home to his own ——, (heaven help us for profaning the word)—let any just man say in the presence of the God of Justice, if in this case, if never in one before, prompt and unsparing retribution can be called crime. It would always be better for men to be calm under trials of any sort—to adjourn to a higher seat of authority than our own breasts, the question of personal wrong, and wait patiently until our cases are taken up to that high and infallible chancery in Heaven, that at last sets all things even. But then suppose we do not, and cannot, are whole States to be ground to powder under the heel of petty tyrants because we are not better than the rest of the world.

The Superior Court of Muscogee will be held in Columbus on the 4th Monday in May, instead of the 2d as heretofore.

☞ The Reconstruction Committee held a meeting this morning, and by a vote of five to four, agreed to report back Gen. Butler's bill for re-organizing the State of Mississippi. The carpet-bag convention is to re-assemble and elect a Provisional Governor. It is well known in advance, that President Grant is strongly opposed to the bill. He assured the Hon. A. G. Brown that the people of Mississippi should have a fair and honest election for their State officers, which cannot be the case with the ballot-box to be manipulated by that Convention, aided by a Provisional Governor of their own choosing.

This sport of turning great States wrong side out like the sleeve of an old coat, will probably cease to be amusing to the patriots of Congress after awhile. But we fear that day will not come till the handful of faithful Democrats in the House are backed up by a modicum of Southern talent, which will assist in teaching the anarchists and destructives that men were created before their time. These modest tinkers in Congress, would not hesitate to run the celestial universe upon fair per diem and mileage, with perquisites and stealings thrown in.

BLAIR'S ARGUMENT.—Montgomery Blair, in the course of his argument, said Francis P. Blair, Jr., could not take the oath that he had never resorted to arms for the purpose of overthrowing the State Government of Missouri, because at the outbreak of the rebellion, in October, 1860, he organized a military force to prontect the United States arsenal at St. Louis, and afterwards organized four regiments and tendered them to the Government, with which to operate against and which captured Camp Jackson. The oath prescribed by the Constitution of Missouri is called the oath of disloyalty, for it required a man to swear he stood by the government of the State, which made war upon that of the United States.—Telegraph.

It thus happens very often that sharpers are outwitted by the simple nature of logical force. They get up a deadly weapon for the vitals of another party, and when they forge it, handle it as a monkey does a razor. Does not Blair's argument place these Radical thumb-screw inquisitors in a pretty pickle Missouri State vs. United States. Pap and Liberty forever.

THE GALLED JADE WINCES.—The number of colored applicants for office is constantly increasing. We hear of them in pursuit of places in the diplomatic service, in the revenue service and in the Postoffice Department.—N. Y. Times.

It is coming round to the point of another irrepressible conflict in the politics of this country, the conflict between "meum and tuum." If a Radical cannot be taught either to see or smell the difference between a white and a black brother, he will mighty soon find out the difference between white and black capacity for office, and will in all cases decide with Cuffee, as the fellow did who got tired of his wife, and left her after a fair divide. The man gave the woman half of the house, he taking the inside and leaving her the outside.

MARSHAL DICKSON.—As it may be inferred from our remarks yesterday, says the Savannah Republican, 25th, that the Government was a heavy loser by the departure of this officer to parts unknown, it would be well to correct that impression. His books show that the Government is in his debt to a considerable amount, and we learn that investigations thus far have only been able to trace some five or six thousand dollars into his possession that belonged to other people, an amount which he could have readily arranged for. The real cause of his disappearance, therefore, is still a mystery. We have had several suggestions, but nothing that appears to be based on ascertained facts,

SHOCKING TRAGEDY IN NEWARK.—A disconsolate lover in Newark shot a young lady on Sunday evening last, to whom he had been engaged, and then committed suicide by blowing out his own brains. He is a young man named Frederick Knettel, aged 21, an upholsterer by trade. Her name is Augusta Beckerle.—N. Y. Times.

Where is Gen. Butler?

Butler—A Glance at the Hero of Big Bethel.

Don Piatt thus sketches the strabismical Ben:

I happened to be in the House yesterday afternoon, just as the war broke out between Butler and Schenck. When I entered Butler was speaking. The galleries were full, as at this time they always are, and on the floor quite two-thirds were on the Republican side, gathered about General Butler, listening in eager silence to his attacks.

Butler's voice is a fair indication of the character of Butler. It is harsh, broken, and exceedingly unpleasant. This matter of the vocal organs is not sufficiently considered by students of human nature. In the animal kingdom the cry of a wild beast is the carefully prepared utterance of the nature of the beast. From the hiss of the snake to the roar of the lion, we have in clear, unmistakable language, the sort of animal we encounter. As we ascend in the scale, and approach innocent, harmonious natures, the utterances become sweet.

Butler's voice is a combination of the growl of the tiger and the hiss of the snake. A timid, sensitive nature would shrink and shudder to hear the roll of malignant, angry utterances of this man. And his appearance, when speaking, carries out the impression. His retreating forehead disappears in the animal developments, that are large, and appear more prominent from being bald, while his shaggy, gray eyebrows throw in deeper shadow the cavernous recesses from which his distorted eyes gleam in wrath. His cheeks are flabby, and fall over a chin that lacks the square prominence that indicates firmness and consistency. In a word, his head is the head of a cat, and when aroused to anger, he seems to growl and spit until one can almost see the gleam of the white teeth, sharp as needles. As Schenck sat in grim silence, listening to the roll of vituperation with his square, honest, brave face, the scene reminded one of a wild cat baiting a bear.

Since the organization of the House Butler has been in a state of watchful agitation, knowing that Mr. Speaker Blaine, whatever might be his private wishes, would not dare to brave the opinion of the House by giving him a prominent place. He sought to break the fall by a letter, declining in advance. Instead of filling its mission, it only added ridicule to injury. He saw Schenck, without an effort, without even a word being said, gratified in all his wishes, and, with his malignant audacity, he determined to make war on the leader of the House. An opportunity opened in the error of an enrolling clerk. You have the particulars by telegraph. From the start Butler showed the devil. Before he uttered an objectionable word his manner was offensive. They who knew him best felt the coming storm, and gathered about his chair. In a few minutes it came like lightning, between a hiss and a roar. All the vile slanders of a bitter, personal, political canvass, suddenly took words, and were thrown upon the House with the startling effect of a bombshell.

OUR NEW JOB OFFICE.—We have an entire new JOB OFFICE, embracing presses, types, borders, cuts, rules, and everything pertaining to a complete outfit.

We are prepared to fill all orders for plain, fancy and ornamental work, in the neatest style, on the shortest notice, and at the lowest living rates.

We respectfully solicit the patronage of our friends and the public generally.

Gen. Samuel Fessenden, father of the Senator, died at Portland, Maine, at the age of about 85 years. He was in his active day eminent as a lawyer, citizen, Mason and politician. He has been Grand Master of the Masonic fraternity in Maine. He leaves a large family of descendants, many of whom are distinguished in the public service, Senator Fessenden being the eldest.

The Masons of Cherokee Lodge, No. 66, at Rome, have undertaken to educate all the indigent orphan children of Masons within their jurisdiction. They now have twenty-one or twenty-two children in the different schools of that city and vicinity, and arrangements have already been made to educate eight or ten more. Comment is unnecessary.

The editor of the Arkansas Gazette has been shown a sample of seed wheat imported from Sardinia. The kernel is very large and plump, and much heavier than the American wheat. It is said to yield very bountifully, growing luxuriantly with heavy stalk and long bearded head. This wheat is grown almost entirely upon the rich and alluvial soil of Italy, and from this circumstance it is believed will be readily adapted to the bottom lands of Arkansas.

A western farmer has written to one of the benevolent institutions of New York asking for four good boys, from sixteen to eighteen years of age. He promises to board and clothe them, give them a good common education, make first-class farmers of them, and at the age of twenty-one will establish each of them on forty acres of good land. He will also take a girl of fifteen or sixteen, give her the same home and advantages, with the same quantity of land when of age. From this it would appear that the demand for farmers in the west is very pressing, and it is reported that a company of boys will leave New York for the west at the beginning of April.

The Colorado Citizen, Texas, has the following about the crop prospects and the folly of planting too much cotton:

Our planters are busily engaged planting their cotton, most of the corn having already been planted. We understand that a large crop, both cotton and corn, is being planted in this section the present season. The high price paid for cotton has induced many of our citizens to engage in this culture, to the exclusion of all other crops, save corn sufficient for their own use. We have always been advocates of diversifying our crops, so that if we meet with a failure in one crop, that we could have something to fall back upon. We are satisfied that so long as the people of this section persist in planting cotton, to the exclusion of everything else, that our county will not prosper as it would under a different course.

The Columbus Times, as an example of what energy, integrity and civility will do, mentions that Mr. John H. Gray has, in a short time advanced from the position of a news boy on the Galveston Railroad, to that of conductor on B. B., B. and C. Railroad.

The New York correspondent of the Episcopalian, thinks the Methodist brethren, and especially the Methodist Bishops, are attempting to "take possession of the Government," or possession, rather, of President Grant. He says:

"We are opposed to Bishops meddling in civil matters, in any way whatsoever, no matter whether they call themselves Catholics, Methodists, or Episcopalians. We trust the good sense of President Grant will resist all undue influences of the kind, and aim to conduct his administration only in accordance with the broad and liberal principles of the precious volume—the sacred Scriptures—with which the American Bible Society saw fit to present him, on the day after his inauguration. Then he need not be, and the people need not be, apprehensive that priest-craft of any kind will be able, directly or indirectly, 'to take possession of the government.'"

SLAVERY THE MAIN SPRING OF OUR NATIONAL PROSPERITY.—Senator Sprague on Friday made the following remarkable admission—remarkable as coming from a New England Republican. He said:

"The main-springs of our prosperity had been slavery and foreign immigration. The former had stimulated the growth of cotton and made it an American monopoly, and so had built up the manufacturing and commercial and railroad interests of the North, and these had, in turn, invited and grown upon foreign immigration."

Again. He said;

"The object of the majority in Cong[illegible] seemed to be rather to perpetuate the [illegible] istence of a party than to promote the [illegible] fare of the people; but no party could h[illegible] his support which did not make the p[illegible] perity and contentment of the people [illegible] chief object. A party which failed in [illegible] failed in the great purpose for which alone [illegible] it had a right to exist."

Upon presenting himself at the Auditors office yesterday with his appointment from Gov. Warmoth, Mr. Delassize was refused possession by Wickliffe, when the latter was ejected by the superintendent of the police. Legal opinions are that Warmoth had no authority to eject Wickliffe from office under the State Constitution; this can only be done by impeachment or in indictment, and conviction; and that there was no legal vacancy for Warmoth to fill, consequently no action or new appointee is legal or binding.

PERSONAL.—We were pleased to meet, yesterday, with our old friend James M. Selkirk, Esq., so long and favorably kown on the Central Railroad, as a model railroad official. He is now residing near the beautiful and growing city of Rome, devoting his attention to agricultural pursuits. We believe that he is connected in some way with the Macon and Western Railroad, and we congratulate that Road upon securing his invaluable services.

CLERKS, Ordinaries, and others of our friends in the various counties, will undoubtedly find it to their interest to send their orders for blank books to W. R. Hanlicter. State in the order the number of quires, size of paper, and style of binding, and, our word for it, satisfaction will be given, in both price and workmanship.

WINE.—We are under obligations to Mr. W. A. Lansdell for a bottle of Angelica Wine, from the California Wine Company. Now, we are not in the habit of indulging in the "sparkling bowl" ourselves, but a friend of ours who has tried this wine pronounces it a delicious article. He says that if the nectar of the gods was better than this wine he don't want to taste it After taking two drinks of it he imagined that he was Anacreon himself, and kept his wife from sleeping all night by improvising poetry.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—During the past week, Messrs. Wallace & Fowler have made the following sales of real estate:

W. A. LANSDALL.—The Greensboro' Herald says of our friend Lansdall, the Druggist, "He is well known in Greene county and has the confidence of all who know him. He, like many others, lost everything in the late war but his honor and his debts. The latter being discharged he is now once more on his feet, and we hope that he will receive the patronage that his honesty, industry and enterprise entitles him. He has a strong competition in Atlanta, but Lansdell-like, he fears it not, but bids his competitors to "Lay on McDuff." He has as good a stock as any of them, and as he buys exclusively for cash, he can sell as low any of them. Of course no Greene county man would think of dealing with any other Druggist in Atlanta as long as Wm. A. Lansdell continues his business there.

LADIES' White Kid and Bronze Slippers, Cloth, Congress, and Lace Boots, Children's Shoes, of all kinds, just received.

TAKE NOTICE.—At a special meeting of the Mayor and Council this evening, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That taxation being the main source whence the city derives its revenue, it is the unalterable determination of this Council to execute the laws relating to taxation vigorously, without regard to persons or circumstances.

Resolved further, That the sooner the municipal tax payers are made sensible of the fact that no longer indulgence will be extended to defaulters the better it will be for all parties concerned.

Resolved, That ignorance of the law is an excuse which defaulters need not expect this Council to recognize in future in any instance.

Resolved, That the Marshal is hereby instructed to proceed to collect the taxes now due the city according to law.

Passed in Council 23d March, 1869.
A true extract from the minutes.
S. B. LOVE, Clerk.

It will be seen from the above proceedings of Council that it is made my duty to proceed at once to collect all taxes that have been placed in my hands. I have a large number of Executions for special tax upon sales for the year 1868, some for four quarters, some for three and some for two, also for one, all ending on the 31st of December, 1868. I have also a large number of executions levied upon real estate for general tax for 1868, which will be sold on the first Tuesday in April next, if not paid before. I hope all parties interested will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly. Capt. R. H. Norris will be found at my office daily from 9 o'clock, A. M., till 12 o'clock, and from 2 o'clock till 5 o'clock, P. M., until day of sale, for the purpose of receiving the tax, and in the meantime I shall wait on the merchants at their stores for the purpose of receiving their tax upon sales up to the 1st of January, 1869. I trust that no one will put me to any trouble, as I must do my duty.
mar25-d4t JOHN THOMAS, Marshal.

READ, O WOMAN!—As health is the greatest blessing on earth, so is disease the greatest curse. The first wish of the heart, therefore, in a temporal view, should be health. Nor is this all. As disease renders us unfit to perform the various duties appropriate to our station in life, there is a moral obligation resting upon us to preserve our physical integrity, by using the means at hand for repelling disease.

Now there is nothing so destructive to health in females as a continued suppression of the menses. It is a condition which makes a woman useless to herself and a burden to her friends. Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, Woman's best Friend, is the only certain cure. Lose not a moment in obtaining the remedy. feb14-tf

DR. J. BRADFIELD'S
FEMALE REGULATOR,
Woman's Best Friend

THIS valuable Medicine is prepared for WOMEN exclusively, and to be used by WOMEN only. It is adapted especially to those cases where the WOMB is disordered, and will cure any irregularity in the "menses," except in such cases as require a surgical operation. As these last are very rare, the FEMALE REGULATOR is of almost universal application. In a sudden check of the "monthly courses" from COLD, trouble of mind or like cause, it acts like a charm, by RESTORING THE DISCHARGE IN EVERY INSTANCE, thus relieving the fever, headache, pain in the small of the back and "lower stomach," flushes of heat about the face, chilly sensations, burning of the eyelids and general restlessness. Taken in time, all these symptoms pass away immediately, without injury to the constitution. Frequently, however, the proper remedy is not applied in time, the disease becomes chronic, and the foundation laid for numberless evils to the constitution of the woman. The next "turn" comes around and there is no "show," or perhaps the "whites" will appear. There will be some uneasiness about the womb, but very little or none of the natural fluid escaping. The complexion becomes sallow, bowels, swollen, a sort of greenish caste about the face, constant dull aching pains in the head, weight in the lower stomach and back, with or without whites, palpitations of the heart, pallor, exhaustion, indigestion, weariness, langour, aching across the loins, loss of appetite, pain in left breast, tightness across the chest, cough and giddiness. If still allowed to go on, "green sickness" will be fully developed—the headache becomes severe, with loss of memory, diminishing sensibility, SICK STOMACH, dyspepsia no relish for food, loss of flesh, increased fluttering of the heart, SWELLING OF THE FEET, legs and body and Insane—Hon. Pierre Soule and his Son Inmates of a Lunatic Asylum.

From the New Orleans Times, March 20.

The melancholy fact can no longer be concealed. One of the brightest of intellects and bravest of spirits has sunk into hopeless imbecility. A rare genius has suffered a total eclipse. Passions once so strong, noble and generous, faculties that were wont to engage the admiration of all, to illume all subjects and diffuse a radiance in all circles, have succumbed to some mysterious power, and now thick darkness and debility possess the mind and soul of one of the most gifted of our citizens.

Yesterday a petition was presented to Judge Duvigneaud by Messrs Charvet and Duplantier, praying that Pierre Soule be interdicted, and that a curator be appointed to take charge of his affairs. The petition alleges his permanent and complete prostration and incapacity. This distressing misfortune has long been known in the community. From delicacy to his esteemed family, it has not been regarded as proper to be referred to in the public prints. This reason can no longer suppress the expression of our profound sorrow and sympathy for the distinguished gentleman and his afflicted family. The unhappy condition of Mr. Soule has been produced by family sorrows of the most distressing character. His only son, some time ago, manifested symptoms of mental aberration. These have became permanent, and now both father and son demand the incessant care of devoted relatives and friends. To those who have known Mr. Soule in his prime as one of the most vigorous-minded of men, with faculties of extraordinary brilliancy, and so well preserved with temperate, prudent, systematic habits, will be surprised, as well as pained, to hear of his infirmity. Only the most poignant, deep and radical sorrow, the most wearing, agonizing and crushing of calamities, could unset an intellect so well balanced by nature and long training, so healthily developed and disciplined. Recalling the brilliant career of the afflicted gentleman, when the halls of legislation and the courts of justice rang with the echoes of his melodious tones, and the audiences were held enchained by his magical eloquence, when his noble presence in every assemblage and on all occasions drew upon him the admiring gaze of all beholders, the beautiful and melancholy lines of Shakspeare occur to us with peculiar force and impressiveness:

"Now see the noble and most sovereign reason,
Like sweet bells, jingled out of tune, and harsh."

Gen. W. T. Sherman—Ups and Downs of Life.

Strange indeed are the ups and downs of life. We cannot judge by appearances. The vicissitudes of the world's affairs, the caprices of fortune, the accidents of events are beyond human foresight.

The Leavenworth (Kansas) Commercial tells the following story about the early life of Gen. Sherman.

On the first day of January, 1859, three lawyers formed a copartnership in this city, and opened an office in the second story of a tottering old frame building, on the east side of Main, between Delaware and Shawnee streets. "Sherman, Ewing & McCook," so read the sign. William T. Sherman, his brother-in-law, Tom Ewing, now a citizen of Washington, and Dan McCook, (afterward mortally wounded at Kenesaw, while leading his brigade,) constituted the firm. Ewing dabbled largely in real estate at that time, and mixed considerably in politics. McCook attended chiefly to the court business, and Sherman was left to do the honors of the office. There, "Captain Sherman" shone in all his glory. Seated on his rickety chair, with his feet on the smoky stove, he talked by the hour to his friends who habitually loafed about the office. Everybody liked Capt. Sherman, and Sherman liked good listeners; hence he had plenty of company. He was a good talker, and very entertaining.

He never tried but one case. That was an action of ejectment before Squire Whitney, who then had a subterranean office under the corner of Second and Delaware. Col. B. was for plaintiff, Sherman for the defense. Sherman got badly beat; B. wound him up and wound him down, and scooped him on every point.

After the war the General was asked if he remembered the case. "Yes," said he, "old B. beat me all to pieces in that law suit in the afternoon, but that night I beat him."

"How was that?"

"You see it was an action for possession. My client was a poor Irishman, who had leased a lot, and put a shanty on it. He failed to pay his rent—hence the action. After we were beaten before the justice, we immediately rented the lot adjoining, and that night my client moved his shanty over on to it."

Sherman soon became disgusted with the law. The partnership lasted but a couple of months, when he was offered a professorship in the Louisiana State Military School, which he gladly accepted.

☞ The following is an extract from a private letter written by the proprietors of the Plantation Bitters:

"We had no conception of the widespread suffering which exists, or of the almost infallible cures produced by the Plantation Bitters, when we first commenced offering them for sale. We now find that every house has a weak child, an ailing parent, or debilitated aged member, who needs this Tonic. Our Laboratory has grown from a single room to an immense building, and our sales from a few bottles to many hundred dozens per day, and we are glad to know that they have done you so much good.

DARBY'S
Prophylactic Fluid.

Letter from Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, of Georgia.

CRAWFORDVILLE, GA., Sept. 29th, 1860.

Darby's Prophylactic Fluid is an article of little cost, but great value. Its domestic as well as medical uses are numerous, while its specialities are most wonderful. I have not been without it for ten years, and no head of a family who can afford to have it should be without it.

The Wonderful Family Medicine.

Letter from the Surgeon General of the late Confederate States.

RICHMOND, VA., Jan'y 14, 1865.

John Darby & Co., No. 160 William St., N. Y.

Gentlemen: I have received your letter of the 15th of December, 1865, calling my attention to your (Darby's Prophylatic) Fluid.

I most cheerfully state that the Fluid was furnished to, and extensively used by the Surgeons in charge of General Hospitals in the Confederate service with great benefit to the patients—all the surgeons making a favorable report—a great deal of it was used in the hospitals.

Very respectfully, your ob't serv't,
SAM'L PRESTON MOORE, M. D.

THE ASTONISHING DISINFECTANT.

EMORY COLLEGE, OXFORD, GA.,
December 28th, 1868.

Prof. Darby: Dear Sir—Having not been engaged for many years in the active duties of the Medical Profession, I am only superficially acquainted with the claims of your Prophylatic Fluid, but am well acquainted with its chemical elements.

While, therefore, I cannot speak experimentally of the value of the compound, yet the disinfecting and Therapeutic properties of the agents employed in its composition, together with the well known reputation of its discoverer, as a chemist, authorize me to regard its merits as of a high order;—on the whole it must be considered as a valuable contribution to the class of articles to which it belongs.

These views, I may add, are sustained by the testimony of many competent judges, who have tested its properties.

Believe me, dear sir, yours respectfully,
A. MEANS, M.D., LL.D.

Messrs. John Darby & Co., 160 William St., N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I received your Circulars of the 10th inst., asking an expression of opinion from me as to the merits of your Prophylatic Fluid. The preparation has been so generally used by the profession and public at large, and so universally esteemed, that it seems to me to need no further recommendation.

As a Disinfectant, and remedial agent too, when indicated, it is not excelled by any similar preparation. We use per manganic preparations very extensively in this Hospital, and could not do without them. I consider yours the best and most elegant preparation of the kind manufactured. Respectfully yours, &c.,

WESLEYAN FEMALE COLLEGE,

Prof. Darby:—When I was President of the LaGrange Female College of Georgia, I used your Prophylactic Fluid in the College with decided success. Both as a disinfectant and as a remedy for sores and burns, etc, it was efficacious and proved o be what it is represented. Every family and public Institution ought to have it. I wish you great success in the sale of it.

TESTIMONIALS:

We select the following extracts for the benefit of those who have not used Rhodes' "Standard" Manure:

S. Wyatt, Esq., of Allington Plantation, near Waynesboro, Ga., writes as follows to Messrs. B. M. Rhodes & Co.:

"Your Phosphate I am highly delighted with; I gave it a fair trial along with several other Standard Manures, and I regard it fully equal if not superior to the best of them. On one field of 100 acres, that I am sure would not, in its natural state, have produced over 400 lbs. of seed cotton to the acre, I have already gathered 700 pounds, and think I shall get fully 900 pounds more.

"Two other fields of 100 acres, better land, I have gathered, at two pickings, over 1,000 pounds to the acre of seed cotton, and think I shall get 200 pounds more.

"I tried it, also, on corn, and found it very good, but not equal in its results to the cotton crop. Several of my neighbors, whose lands adjoin my own, and is pretty much the same character of land, who used no fertilizer at all, have signally failed, making no more than half a crop, if so much as that. Where I applied Rhodes' Phosphate the cotton was heavily fruited, bolls larger, the staple longer, stouter and better than where none was used, so much so that any one, even though he may never have seen the growth before, could readily see it. The only objection I could is, it caused the cotton to open faster than we can possibly gather it—at least, such is my experience."

T. C. Howard, Esq., of Darien, Ga., writes as follows:

"It is proper that I should say the results of the use of your fertilizer have been very marked and indeed surprising. I have made more cotton by its aid on worn out land, that has not been in cultivation in two years past, than I have been able to do on the best swamp or bottom land on my place in Mississippi."

ATHENS, GA., January 23, 1869.

Messrs. P. P. Pease & Co., Atlanta: I applied the two tons of Rhodes' Super-Phosphate, which you furnished me last year, at the rate of 400 pounds to the acre, on thin land, considerably exhausted by continued cultivation, without manure, and have no hesitation in saying that it is an excellent fertilizer for cotton. On the eight acres to which I applied it, I picked upwards of 8,000 pounds of seed cotton—more than double what the land would have produced without the fertilizer. It is also proper to mention, that while the caterpillars stripped all the leaves and young bolls of an adjoining patch, manured with Dickson's Mixture, commencing their ravages in August, they did not attack that manured with Rhodes' Super-Phosphate until the first week in October.
WILLIAM M. BROWNE.

Thousands of certificates and letters could be published, showing the value of Rhodes' "Standard," a quick and permanent fertilizer.

For Medicinal purposes they have no superiors and few equals, being free from adulteration of any kind. The popularity of Lake and Mound Vineyard Wines and Brandies, on the Pacific Coast, has been justly earned, and they are fast gaining ground in the Atlantic States. For Sale at Auction!

THE BEST

HOTEL PROPERTY

IN THE SOUTHERN STATES.

I WILL offer for sale at auction, on the 16th day of April, next, on the premises, the property known as the WASHINGTON HALL PROPERTY, situated in the city of Atlanta, State of Georgia. Atlanta is located near the geographical centre of the State, and is at present the termination of four of the principal railroads of the South, viz.: the Western and Atlantic, passing through the mountains, and over which passes the produce and passengers of the Great West to Atlanta, and from Atlanta diverges the Georgia Railroad, leading to Augusta and Charleston, S. C.; the Macon and Western Railroad, connecting at Macon with the Central Railroad leading to Savannah; and the West Point and Montgomery railroad, leading to Montgomery and Mobile, Ala. There are also two other railroads in contemplation, viz., the Atlanta and Jacksonville Railroad, which is to be put under contract very soon, connecting with a road running to Decatur, Ala., and then connecting with the great Memphis and Charleston Railroad, forming a direct line from Memphis to Charleston, S. C., through Atlanta. The Air Line Railroad Company has lately been organized, and the work commenced and will soon be completed, forming an Air Line Railroad direct from New York to New Orleans. The Air Line from New York to Atlanta, connecting then with the West Point and Montgomery, forming the Air Line road to New Orleans, makes Atlanta the terminus of seven of the most important railroads in the Southern States. Atlanta, beside being a great railroad centre, is now the permanent capital of the State, and is unsurpassed for health, delightful climate and good water, by any city either North or South, and its rapid growth, having increased in population in less than three years from 5,000 to 28,009, and increasing in wealth in proportion, both of which is without parallel in the history of any Southern city, or very few of any other country), should be satisfactory evidence that capital cannot be more profitably invested anywhere than in Atlanta. The great want at a hotel of sufficient capacity to accommodate travelers that pass through Atlanta is still further evidence that it is the place of all others to invest capital in Hotel Keeping. The Washington Hall Property is most admirably located for that business, being situated within 60 feet of, and fronting upon the beautiful Park, and only 80 feet from the passenger Depot, thereby saving omnibus fare or expense of moving baggage; and fronting 160 feet upon the Park, and extending 300 feet upon the Georgia Railroad right of way, and being within 100 feet of the geographical centre of the city, and also of the business centre, makes it every way the most desirable unimproved property in the South for hotel purposes. The property will be sold for one third cash and the balance on six and twelve months. There is no place in the country, North or South, where building can be done cheaper than in Atlanta. The titles to the above property are indisputable, and the sale will be positive. WM. MARKHAM.
